Scientific and Spiritual Implications of Psychic Abilities

Why bother with ESP...

My hope is always to give people an increasing opportunity to experience the part of themselves that is psychic. As a physicist, I was co-founder of the Stanford Research Institute's investigation into psychic abilities in the 1970s and 1980s for the CIA and many other government agencies. This previously classified work is now widely known as remote viewing. It is the ability that we all have to describe and experience objects and events blocked from ordinary perception by distance or time. We were The Real X-Files, looking at a Soviet weapons factory in Siberia, a failed Chinese A-bomb test, a downed Soviet bomber in Africa, American hostages in Iran, and even Patricia Hearst kidnapped in Berkeley. Remote viewing is a natural and easy to learn ability, best indicated by the fact that there are now more than a million pages of "remote viewing" on Google.

Buddhism, Hinduism, and modern physics all agree that we live in a non-local universe. This is a multi-dimensional, quantum-interconnected world in which it is no more difficult to see the hidden present than it is to describe the hidden future. We used this approach for our highly successful forecasting of changes in the silver futures market. Although remote viewing can be applied to finding your car keys, locating parking spaces, and forecasting the stock market, I believe the most important use of these abilities is the discovery of who we really are. That is, our experience that who we are is non-local awareness -- much more than merely a physical body. Remote viewing is not a spiritual path, but it definitely can show you that you have taken the first steps to finding the highly useful off switch for your normally chattering

Such a geomantically placed site will benefit everyone including You, Mother Earth, Nature's Critters, Angels, and the Elemental Kingdom. Come learn to dowse a labyrinth!

Marty, a founding member of the Labyrinth Society, researched ancient sacred sites in Europe and America to discover what makes specific places sacred, and she recreates that experience for others through labyrinth and dowsing workshops. Participants learn to collaborate with the earth energy and angelic realms to co-create contemporary sacred spaces. Her labyrinth designs are located across North America, Brazil, and South Africa.

Cathy has been Vice President of the Metropolitan Atlanta Astrological Society and has international clientele. www.astrologyforthesoul/index/chb or www.cathyburroughs.com

#4

Healing Past Life Trauma with Kinesiology and Dowsing with Barbara Stone

Quantum physics teaches us that all time is really now, so wounds from our past lives cripple our present functioning. This workshop teaches a "soul detective" approach developed by Dr. Barbara Stone, using divination (muscle testing or pendulum) rather than hypnosis to access past life information, then rebalancing the energy flow with techniques from the new field of Energy Psychology.

Barbara Stone is an author, workshop presenter, and a long-time dowser. Her innovative book, Invisible Roots: How Healing Past Life Trauma Can Liberate Your Present, won the Book News USA award for the best book of 2008 in the category of Health: General. Each participant will be provided with a basic kit of tools and a basic dowsing instructional manual. We will use the L-rods, Y-rods, pendulums, and bobbles to practice water dowsing, informational dowsing, chart dowsing, and dowsing for missing objects and more. Power Beyond Words: Dowsing the Language of the Matrix with Alan Handelsman

As dowzers, we've been taught that using the right language can mean the difference between success and failure. What if there was another language that will help get better answers, and quicker solutions to our dowsing issues? And what if, no matter your dowsing experience, you already know this language and can learn to use it during this presentation?

Alan Handelsman is a certified hypnotherapist, One Brain facilitator, EFT practitioner, and retired musician. He has given workshops, trainings, and demonstrations to dowzers and others in Canada, England, Switzerland, and Norway. His Resonance Tuner™ is now being used in all 50 states and 35 foreign countries. He is noted for his warm, humorous style. He may be contacted at: 480-945-6227; e-mail: alanhand@aol.com; www.sourcehypnosis.com; www.resonancetuner.com

Cymatics: The Experience! Vibration, Creation, Transformation with Jeff Volk

Cymatics, the science of wave formations, demonstrates how sound creates intricate geometric patterns and dynamic processes which reveal not only how dowsing works, but how vibrations interact to create the world we perceive. This wide-ranging program combines poetry and music, introspective exercises, and a coherent scientific method to demonstrate pragmatic spiritual principles. It is accessible to anyone with a willingness to entertain the inconceivable: that you can be all you imagine yourself to be, and nothing more!

Poet, producer and publisher, Jeff Volk has been popularizing the science of Cymatics for 25 years. He has produced videos based on the pioneering experiments of Swiss scientist, Dr. Hans Jenny, and has re-issued Jenny's out-of-print books on Cymatics. Water Sound Images, Jeff's recent publication, showcases the stunning Cymatic photographs of contemporary German researcher, Alexander Lauterwasser. The phenomenal success of his award-winning video, Of Sound Mind and Body: Music and Vibrational Healing, inspired him to produce the International Sound Colloquium, the premier conference exploring the power of sacred sound and healing music.
